RE: Petroleum Storage Tank Release Liability
Site: TCAAP Redevelopment #2, 2020 Highway Avenue, Arden Hills
Site ID#: LEAK00017797 (PB4302)

Dear Mr. Otte, Mr. Ryan and Ms. Worthington:

Under Minn. Stat. § 115C.021, subd. 1, (2012), a person is a responsible person for a release from a tank if that person owned or operated the tank any time during or after the release. If a person comes into possession of property where there has been a release after the tanks have been removed that person is not a responsible person under the statutory definition and the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) cannot order that person to take corrective action under Minn. Stat. Ch. § 115C (2012).

Liability is further limited for lenders. Minn. Stat. § 115C.021, subd. 4 (2012) provides that a mortgagee is not responsible for a release from a tank solely because the mortgagee becomes an owner of real property where the tank is located through foreclosure or receipt of a deed in lieu of foreclosure.

If future development of the site or the surrounding area is planned, it should be assumed that petroleum contamination may be present. State law requires that persons properly manage contaminated soil and water they uncover or disturb - even if they are not the party responsible for the contamination. For some properties, special construction may also be needed to prevent the further spreading of the contamination and/or to prevent petroleum vapors from entering buildings or utility corridors. The MPCA Petroleum Brownfields Program can assist with reviews and approvals of Development Response Action Plans required to address environmental risk from petroleum contamination. If contamination is encountered during development work, contact the MPCA immediately.
